FISH GRILLS MUTUAL

Advocates the Election of the Policy Holders' Ticket.

SENDS HIS OWN BALLOT ALONG

Former President of the Illinois Central Railroad Scores Present Management of the Big Life Insurance Companies-Declares Many Reforms in Methods Are Needed.

New York, Dec. 13 .- Stuyvesant Fish, who, it is intimated, was forced from BULLETIN BOARDS. the position as president of the Illihois Central Railroad because he would not stand for "whitewashing methods" while a trustee of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, threw a bomb into the camp of the present management of the Mutual to-night, when he forwarded to Richard Olney, chairman of the international policy holders' committee, a letter, inclosing his ballot for the international policy holders' committee's ticket for trustee of the Mutual Life.

In this connection, Mr. Fish sent a letter to Mr. Olney, which is being spread broadcast by the committee, advocating the election of their ticket. The letter reads as follows:

neads as follows:

New York, Dec. 13, 1906.

My Dear Mr. Olney: When I resigned as a trustee of the Mutual Life Insurance Company I made up my inimd to drop the business, and did so. For a long while I hoped and believed that the influence of such good, strong men as there were left in the board when I withdrew would work out the greatly needed reforms. In this connection I have reached the conclusion that in common with other policy holders I ought to send you my ballot in favor of the united committee's ticket, which is inclosed herewith. Very truly yours, STUYVESANT FISH.

In connection with the protest filed on

In connection with the protest filed on December 10 by Chairman Olney, citing specified instances where agents of the Mutual Life were campaigning for the success of the administration ticket, in violation of law, there was received to-day from Superintendent of Insurance Otto Kelsey, of the State of New York, a notification that he had ordered the management of the Mutual Life to have their agents immediately discontinue such prac-

The great trouble with State insurance is that agents employed by private companies have been able to get better results and better returns than those employed by the governments.

The committee believes that State regulation along conservative lines is the best method. The report will say that the subject of State insurance form what the committee has been able to learn, from State and countries that have tried it, is in such an unsatisfactory condition that it cannot advise Wisconsin to cmbark in the experiment. The committee reports that it cannot see that State inrance will furnish a relief, or panacea, for the ills existing under present conditions, and that at this time State insurance is not feasible, and not to be recom-
